PAY UP!-It would be exceedingly gratifying to us if the very large number of persons who have not paid their subscriptions for the present year, would do so at once .-We dislike to be continually dunning our subscribers, but they are to blame for it all. It is impossible for us to call on each one of them individually, nor ought such a thing to be expected. Those who have paid have our gratitude, and need not take this notice as referring to them.

The Twenty-Second of February.

The only public recognition of this day, once sacred to the memory, and dear to the heart of every American, by the people of this community, was the large and creditable turn-out in the evening of the Independent Order of Old Fellows, to hear an address from Rev. T. B. SHEPHERD. In noticing this address before a benevolent association. whose object is the dissemination of those principles which are to elevate man and benefit his species, it is hardly proper to stop to inquire why a day whose return was once hailed with unfeigned delight, is now regardod with but little more interest than any of the other three hundred and sixty four days of the year. That such is the case, however, is a fact which needs no argument to demonstrate. But to return to the procession, and the lecture, which the public expect us to notice as one of the incidents of the times, and one of the events happening in our midst. Of the first, it is just to say it was a success. Wildey Lodge turned out in full force, and from neighboring lodges there were creditable deputations. The services at the church consisted of singing by an improvised choir, and prayer by Rev. J. W. TONGUE. Then came the lecture, which, as a literary production, abounding in instructive thought and sparkling with goms of brightest imagery, was well calculated to excite admiration, if it an address to the order under whose auspices it was delivered, it served to plant any new truths or to heighten the devotion of the members to the principles of their time-honored institution, is not for us to say, but certain it is, it conveyed a clear and concise idea of the duties which Odd Fellowship impose, and the seed sown, if it fell not in stony places, should spring up to an abundant harvest of the rich fruits, Friendship, Love and Truth. A closer analysis of this lecture. might lead us to question the expediency-as to time and place-of the expression of a portion of its composition, but there was no word uttered that did not with us touch a responsive chord. The inculcation of patriotism is one of the duties which imperatively demands the care of every man in evry calling, but in our day so closely allied is this heaven-born sentiment with political partizanship, that we doubt whether the pulpit can touch it without soiling its robes. At least, we should prefer that the press and the rostrum, rather than the pulpit of the South, should echo the anathemas of the people against the ungodly prostitution of constitutional government. We say this in no spirit of fault finding, for we have too high a regard for the talented lecturer to indite aught that would wound his feelings or detract from his real and genuine merit as a christian harshness. The allusion to poor old Virgin- mirthful. ia, upon whose breast was nurtured the man that stamp the present as the age of oppresthe hoof of tyranny crushing out the liberty of her children, and bending them to subjection'to her servile population, it must have roused a feeling of indignation at her wrongs and intensified the love of every Virginian, who is not recreant to his ancient mother .-

ture with decided gratification. A Sister Town.

We hope we are not possessed of an envious disposition, but we can but wish that our people were actuated with the same spirit of enterprise that is manifest to every one who visits the county scat of Berkeley county .-Ten years ago we lived in Martinsburg, and then there was little doing in the way of improving the town. Since then her canvass has been stretched and her cords lengthened, and to day she stands forth the first town in the rich Valley of Virginia, in point of population, and the outward indications of a permanent prosperity. New and hands buildings are springing up on every eligible site within the corporate limits, and without her boundaries neat suburban habitations greet the vision. Our trip to the town last week was one of unmixed pleasure. Six months had passed since our last visit, and so much had been accomplished in that half year, that we felt at first as though we were treading on strange ground till we met with over a field that is too broad to be canvassed

Church. As this fair is now closed, and we trust its object fully accomplished, we are saved the necessity of commending it to publie support, but it might not be inappropriate to entertain our readers with just a slight reference to what we saw and what we did at the fair. First then as to what we saw : A variety of articles, some of value, and some of little value, were there to be disposed of. A brother editor, a confirmed bachelor, had the evening previous won a wax baby. tried our luck-not on a baby-but on baby clothes; we lost, of course, just as we feared we would do, but the sympathy which seemed to follow our ill-luck more than made up our losses. And then we voted, and it was a privilege for a poor rebel to do that in these times. We gave the Southern Methodist preacher one pop for an easy chair, for which . we hope our German Reformed friends will not disfranchise us when they have another fair. If we could be allowed to appoint our own board of registration, we think our name would be continued on the list at Wysong's Hall. Altogether, we are glad to say, the fair was very successful.

NOTICE.

PARTIES interested in the settlement of RED-MAN & GIBSON, JOHN R. A. REDMAN and JAMES D. GIBSON'S ESTATE, now before me as Special Commissioner, will take notice, that on and after the 25th day of February, 1865, the matter SAM'L RIDENOUR.

The Bone Trade. War has its uses as well as its abuses. It changes society, and opens up new avenues of trade, and in some cases provides the capital stock for carrying on business. The bones of many a valuable horse or cow have been unprofitably bleaching on our hill sides for the past few years, but there is a requisition for them at last, and soon they will be ground to powdered dust to aid in giving nourishment and strength to the waving grain and tasselling corn. For the past week the commodious agricultural Emporium of Ranson & Duke has been crowded with bone-merchants, and from frosty morn till dewy eve they may be seen straggling in, some with wheel-barrows, some with bags, and some with light wagons drawn by themselves. They bring them in lots from a single bone of two ounces up to fifty pounds. Sometimes the scene in front of the warehouse is ludierous. Burly boys from fourteen to sixteen, intermixed with little urchins who have only recently shed their infantile appendages are there, and all their talk is "bones." A big hoy will be seen sitting on his wheelbarrow, rubbing his hands; one a little younger will be standing by his bag, which contains perhaps a peck of bones ; a chap about eight years old hugs an old horse head, while a still younger one will rattle away with a handfull of beef-ribs neatly trimmed for the market. The picture is somewhat grotesque, but so long as it cleans our streets and gains a spare penny for the boys we ought to commend the bone trade.

[For the Spirit of Jefferson] Sabbath School Exhibition at Harper's Ferry.

BOLIVAR, Feb. 21, 1868.

Mr. Editor :-The exhibition advertised in the last edi tion of the Spirit, to be given in the Lutheran Church at this place, having been attended with such signal success, both dramatically and pecuniarily, I have thought that a special mention of some facts pertaining thereto would be interesting to the friends of the enterprise, and due to those who so meritoriously acquitted themselves in the rendering of their respective parts.

The greatest stimulant of its success was undoubtedly to be attributed to the patient inspired no higher sentiment. Whether as | and untiring efforts of Mr. Charles Davies. who controlled the management of trimming for the drama. This gentleman, we understand, is the author of the "Temperance Drama," and "Taking the Starch Out," as also of "All's well that End's Well," all of which were enacted on the occasion.

The staging, though temporary, was erect ed very properly, so as not to spoil the effect of the acts by the presence of the actors in sight of the audience (a customary fault in Sunday School exhibitions) before the proper Mr. Wm. Winters should have our time. thanks for this exhibitional revolution in this

The famous quarrel between Brutus and Cassius, rendered by Messrs. Croyeau and Littlejohn, was entered into with a vim which showed that these gentlemen were by no means dull in conceiving the animus which entered into that mighty conflict of words.

The Temperance Drama, or the Lawyer's Oath, was presented in a manner which did not fail to deeply culist the sympathies of the audience, while the office boy, Master Ray-mond Furtney, played his part in a provokingly laughable style. He was stamped by general consent, as huge for a little un'.

In "Taking the Starch Out," Miss Florence Cross, "Aru't you elegant?" addressed to the "gay-deceiver," showed much the taste of the accomplished artiste, and indeed, was and a gentleman. We hope the lecture was a speciality of the occasion. Mr. Young perwell received, but upon some portions of the audience we fear that it fell with sounds of "How are you Gadpole?" was irresistibly

Miss Julia Chambers' Biddy, in "All's whose birth-day brought into the world a Well that End's Well," was quite up to the champion for the oppressed everywhere, was standard of the servant girl's troubles, and a forcible indictment of the monstrous evils | elicited many commendations. Will Kirby hadn't much to say in his character, but spoke sion. Bowed and bleeding as she is, with a volume in the faithful physical representation of the indomitable Mike. All in all, the exhibition was an entire success, and reflects much credit upon all of its participants. It is only in consequence of taking too much space in your columns, that I refrain from mentioning the names of others who per-But we are perhaps wandering, and that too formed their parts with dexterous precision.

I should not omit to state that the series in a notice of a mere local incident. We are of Tableaux presented, and which are also to be attributed to Mr. Davies, was a feature of the entertainment which beautifully horizoned, as floating golden clouds, the little world of innecent dramas. Most prominent among them were "Jacob and Rachael at the Well, and "The Marriage," which concluded the programme of the evening. The exhibition was repeated on Thursday evening, and will take place again on Tucsday evening, February 25th, for the benefit of the Sunday School children of the neighborhood-all of whom have been invited to

Ma. Gro. H. Beckwith:
Dear Sis—A few days since I sprained my ankle very severely. It was badly swollen, and very painful—I could not get on my boot. A friend gave me some of your Liniment, I used it once only—tubbed long and well at night, and the next morning was so lar relieved as to be able to get on my boot and walk without limping.

I believe it to be the greatest Liniment now known, and recommend it to every one.

Jam, sir, yours gratefully.

Bee Hives. THE undersigned having purchased the right and entire and complete control of

LANGSTROTH'S PATENT BEE HIVES, for the county of Jefferson, are prepared to furnish said Hives, inade in the best manner of seasoned material with recent improvements, to all who may want them. For their merit and great superiority over any and all other hives, we refer to any and all persons who have them in use, of whom there are many in this vicinity. We can vouch for over three hundred pounds of pure virgin Honey having been taken from three of these Hives in 1865, besides leaving an abundant supply for the winter use of the bees in the lower or breeding department.

As there are some persons in this county who have these Tives in use who have no papers to show their authority for using them, we hereby notify them that we will place our claims for their use, with damages, in the hands of a Lawyer for settlement in the United States Court, if they disregard this notice by not obtaining the proper authority from us. We have paid our money for this right, and do not intend that it shall be used by any one without authority and payment of the patent fee. There is but one side to thus question before the United States Courts, where the costs are very heavy, independent of danages. As weare reluctant (though determined) to take this course, we hope no one will duregard this notice. This p stent has been extended for seven years from the 5th of Octeber, 1866. We also caution all persons (not authorized) against manufacturing said Hives in thise anny.

We have ordered some of Langstroth's new work on the Honey Bee, and expect soon to have them for saids.
